

The redevelopment of the Karl-Heine-Kanal

A success story up to today

- 1. Introduction
- 2. The Karl Heine Canal during the time of the German Democratic Republic
- 3. The political change-an opportunity for the Karl Heine Canal
- 4. Planning and construction of the path and the redevelopment of the canal
 - 4.1 The renovation of the Karl Heine Canal
 - 4.2 The mixed water pumping station
 - 4.3 The cycle and foot path

Figure 1: City map of the Karl-Heine-Canal

Figure 2: The overgrown bank 1990

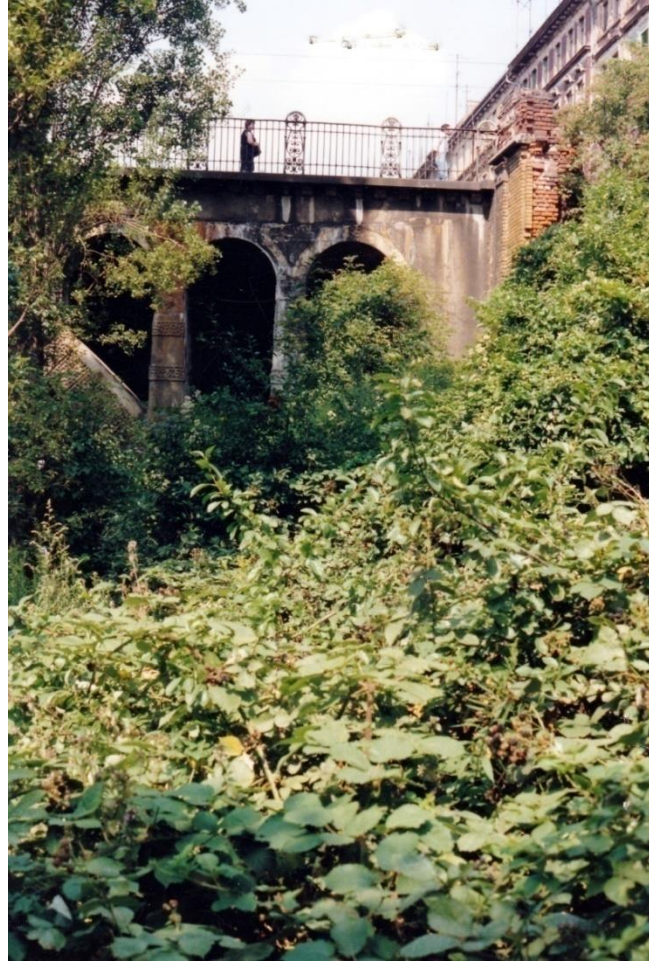

Figure 3a: Building site 1994

Figure 3b: The same View 2022

Figure 4: Desilting of the Karl Heine Canal by means of a floating barge and excavator

Figure 5: View from the west of the bored pile wall on the right along the tracks. You can also see the pipeline that diverts the rainwater and wastewater coming from Grünau.

Figure 6a: On the left and right, the two pipelines that helped to drain the canal. On the right you can see the pipeline that receives the water coming

Figure 6b: The same view 2022

Figure 7a: Preparation for the room lattice walls 1992

Figure 7b: The same view 2022

Figure 8a: Start of work on the embankment to the Karl-Heine-Straße 1995

Figure 8b: 1995 Space lattice walls;
embarmment to the Karl-Heine-Straße

Figure 8b: The same view 2022

Figure 9: Bank with cycle path 2022

Figure 10: 2021

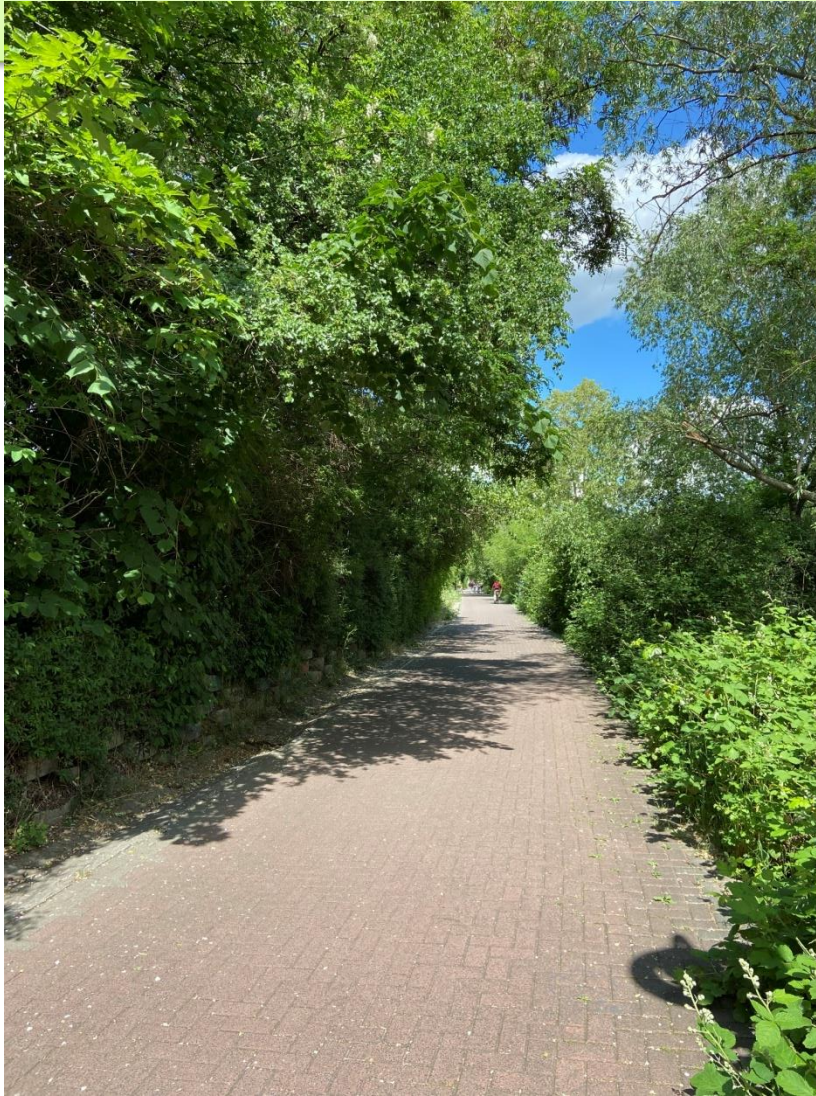

Figure 11: 2022

Figure 12: 2022

Figure 13: 2022

Literature Karl-Heine-Kanal

